Course Description

This course explores themes of importance to the various sub-disciplines of Anthropology. The goal is to show how varying analytical perspectives on these broad themes produce divergent views of past and present human cultures.

Goals and Outcomes of Course

Appreciation of how the sub-fields engage with a number of important themes.

Develop the skills to critically evaluate ideas put forward in each of the sub-disciplines.

Develop critical reading skills.

Enable students to write a significant research paper.

Tutorials:

The class will be divided (on the basis of your last name) into Groups 1 and 2. On certain dates marked on the syllabus below, EITHER group 1 or 2 will meet for tutorial discussions. These sessions are mandatory to attend and you must come to class having done the required readings for that tutorial theme. A separate handout will be distributed which discusses this.

Tutorial Leader for Group 1: Karen McGarry (mcgarry@mcmaster.ca)

Tutorial Leader for Group 2: Fiona Del Rio (delriof@mcmaster.ca)

Fiona: Office hours and office location TBA.

Note that your TA marks all of your work for this class.

Policy on the Submission of Assignments - Assignments submitted by e-mail will not be accepted. No extensions will be given unless written certification, approved by your Faculty office, is provided. Please note that policies concerning the use of MSAFs (McMaster Student Absence Forms) have changed (see <http://www.mcmaster.ca/msaf/>). Late assignments without appropriate documentation will be penalized 10% per day late, including weekend days. No assignments are accepted after 48 hours of the submission deadline (including weekends) and you will receive a 0.

Missed Assessments or Exams – Note that the Midterm test cannot be MSAF'd as it is worth 25%.

Course Materials and Avenue to Learn (ATL) -Lectures will be presented using Power Point, an abbreviated version of which will be posted weekly on ATL. You must be registered in the course to have access to the 3PD3 site. Please familiarize yourself with the Avenue to Learn system. You can access ATL at:
<http://avenue.mcmaster.ca/?logout=1>

Correspondence - I will check my email regularly throughout the week, so you can expect a response within approximately 48 hours. Please put 3PD3 in the subject line of your email and include your name and student number at the end of all correspondence.

If you require this information in an alternate/accessible format, please contact Eszter Bell at 905-525-9140 extension 24423 or email bellesz@mcmaster.ca

Student Behavior and Responsibilities –

Your learning – it is your responsibility to keep up with the readings – do not leave them until the night before the exams. Attendance in this class is essential if you want to do well in this course. You are expected to think about the readings and integrate them into the information and concepts presented during lecture.

Classroom behavior – Please do not be afraid to ask questions or provide constructive comments! If you do not understand something, or if I have gone over a concept too fast, stop me and ask a question. Chances are if you do not understand something, other people in the class are in the same position.

Please ensure that cell phones are turned off (including text messaging, Twitter, etc...) and arrive on time for class. If you have to leave class early, please sit near one of the exits. Laptop computers may be used in class for taking notes, but students using their computers for any other purpose (e.g., checking Facebook) will be asked to turn their computers off. Please be polite to your neighbours and keep conversation to a minimum.

MSAF Policy

In the event of an absence for medical or other reasons, students should review and follow the Academic Regulation in the Undergraduate Calendar “Requests for Relief for Missed Academic Term Work”. Please note these regulations have changed beginning Spring/Summer 2015.

If you have any questions about the MSAF, please contact your Associate Dean’s office.

FACULTY OF SOCIAL SCIENCES E-MAIL COMMUNICATION POLICY

Effective September 1, 2010, it is the policy of the Faculty of Social Sciences that all e-mail communication sent from students to instructors (including TAs), and from students to staff, must originate from the student’s own McMaster University e-mail account. This policy protects confidentiality and confirms the identity of the student. It is the student’s responsibility to ensure that communication is sent to the university from a McMaster account. If an instructor becomes aware that a communication has come from an alternate address, the instructor may not reply at his or her discretion.

STATEMENT ON ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Academic dishonesty consists of misrepresentation by deception or by other fraudulent means and can result in serious consequences, e.g., the grade of zero on an assignment, loss of credit with a notation on the transcript (notation reads: “Grade of F assigned for academic dishonesty”), and/or suspension or expulsion from the university.

It is your responsibility to understand what constitutes academic dishonesty. For information on the various kinds of academic dishonesty please refer to the Academic Integrity Policy, Appendix 3, www.mcmaster.ca/senate/academic/ac_integrity.htm

The following illustrates only three forms of academic dishonesty:

1. Plagiarism, e.g., the submission of work that is not one’s own for which other credit has been obtained.
2. Improper collaboration in group work.
3. Copying or using unauthorized aids in tests and examinations.
