

Anthro 3K03: Archaeological Interpretation

Instructor: Shanti Morell-Hart

<smorell@mcmaster.ca>

Course Schedule: Tuesdays 11:30-14:20

Course Location: Kenneth Taylor Hall, Room B122

Office Hours: Wednesdays, 11:00 - 1:00

Office: Chester New Hall, Room 534

Course description:

What is the role of material culture in daily and ritual life? What aspects of lifeways are negotiated through artifacts and features? What happens to material remains after they become incorporated into the archaeological record, and what are the methods used to study these residues? How can we use artifacts, ecofacts, and features to answer archaeological and anthropological questions?

In this course, we will engage in the classification, analysis, and interpretation of archaeological data. We will explore different types of archaeological remains and modes of analysis, as well as theoretical frameworks used to interpret the archaeological record. The course is arranged around 1) exploring the major classes of artifacts, ecofacts, and features likely to be encountered in archaeological sites; 2) identifying these remains and organizing the data to make interpretable results; and 3) addressing major issues within the sub-discipline including preservation, analytical methods, sampling, collection, and interpretation.

Our broad goals are to:

- Learn about the classification of different types of archaeological materials;
- Understand the problems and range of anthropological research using archaeological datasets;
- Gain knowledge of archaeological analysis from sampling to interpretation; and
- Consider the broader applications of archaeological interpretation, including economics, identity, foodways, politics, symbolism, and historical ecology.

The class will proceed partly as a seminar, with discussions on assigned readings, and partly as a laboratory section, with practicums and field trips. You will be evaluated on consistent participation in class discussion (in the classroom and/or the online forum) (20%), a set of reading responses (20%), a set of laboratory practicums and field activities (20%), a final paper (30%), and a final research presentation (10%).

Textbooks and Required Readings:

Many of the readings will be posted online, but there is one required book available for purchase online or in the campus bookstore (make sure to get the 2nd edition):

Balme, Jane and Alistair Paterson

2013 Archaeology in Practice: A Student Guide to Archaeological Analyses. 2nd edition. John Wiley & Sons.

ISBN: 9780470657164

Course requirements:

Our course meets once a week. Classes will be divided between informal lectures, discussions, and laboratory practicums. Your grade in the course will be based on your performance in completing the following assignments:

Class participation: 20% of total grade.

Class participation is based partially on attendance, and partially on contributions to discussion. You are expected to complete all of the required readings before each class. Attendance at all class meetings is expected, and is part of your grade calculation. It is necessary for you to participate in class discussion through substantive questions and comments in the classroom, and/or through posting to the online discussion forums. Online dialogue can be a response to previous postings, or the posting of a new discussion topic.

The goal of class discussion is to draw out your own interests in the course materials, and to regularly and critically engage you, along with your peers, with the central themes of the course.

ALSO REQUIRED*: Feedback on the final presentations of two of your peers.

Reading responses: 20% of total grade. Due each Monday by 10 pm.

You will be responsible for a 300 word (roughly ¾ page, double-spaced) response to one of the assigned readings-- NOT including the textbook reading-- the evening before our class meeting each week. These are to be posted on Avenue to Learn, in the Discussions area, before 10 pm, each Monday evening. Individual readings will be divvyed up between class members for responses, but everyone is responsible for completing all of the assigned readings for each week's discussion.

Each reading response should include the following:

A) Basic information:

- Full citation of the assigned reading at the very beginning of the response (author, year, publication, publisher, etc., following the AAA Style Guide: http://www.aaanet.org/publications/style_guide.pdf)
- A set of 5 keywords (list), just below the citation
- Identify the subject, the time period(s), and the location(s) of the study. (1 sentence)

B) Assessment:

- What do you think is the theoretical position of the author(s)? That is, what kinds of questions are the authors asking (e.g., ecological questions, ritual questions, questions of gender, etc.)? (1 sentence)
- What are the primary research objectives/thesis statements/questions asked of the data by the author(s)? That is, what specific questions are the authors asking? (3 sentences)
- What types of materials/data/evidence are used to address these objectives? (1 sentence)
- What else would you like to see the author address? Where did the article fall short? Was the data really appropriate to the question? Did the authors really ANSWER their own questions? (2 sentences)
- What questions do you have about the reading? (1-2 sentences)
- OPTIONAL: What are your suggestions for re-interpretation, using the same data set or material? How would you have done the study differently?

C) Reflection:

- What is one key thing you drew from this reading? (1 sentence)
- What does this make you reflect on-- in the news, your own daily practice, or your own experiences? (1-2 sentences)

The goal of these reading responses is prepare you for class discussion, with your personal and critical reflections on assigned material at the ready. A secondary goal is to leave you with a set of your own annotations on class readings.

The goal of these reading responses is prepare you for class discussion, with your personal and critical reflections on assigned material at the ready. A secondary goal is to leave you with a set of your own annotations on class readings.

Laboratory Practicums: 20% of total grade. Due each class.

Your work from each laboratory practicum and field trip activity will be recorded into your lab notebook. Each entry will entail answering a series of questions and/or crafting detailed drawings and descriptions. Laboratory practicums will be graded on completeness, clarity of information, and accuracy of answers to exercise questions.

Final paper: 30% of total grade.

Your final paper will be broken up into two components: final paper outline and annotated bibliography (10%), and the final paper itself (20%).

Step 1 – Outline and annotated bibliography: 10% of total grade. Due Friday, Nov.2, by 10 pm.

This is a 2-page assignment that includes a 1-page (single-spaced) outline (roughly 250 words), and a 1-page (single-spaced) list of sources with a brief annotation for each source.

The outline must include: 1) your main thesis questions and objectives, 2) the general layout of your paper and structure of your argument, and 3) the contributions from source material you will be using. In your outline, the authors and dates of the readings you plan to cite will go in parentheses next to every applicable outline subheading. Also provide a rough page number count for each major section of your paper.

On a separate page, provide an alphabetical list of 8 sources you plan to use in your paper: articles, book chapters, databases, and/or other scholarly materials. You can use as many class resources as you'd like, but least 5 of your readings must come from sources outside of assigned class readings. All of your sources should be scholarly in nature, and listed with full bibliographic reference information. Make sure to use the AAA Style guide for your bibliographic information http://www.aaanet.org/publications/style_guide.pdf . For each source, you will need to include a brief (1-sentence) description of how the material will contribute to your paper.

I will post several examples of final paper outlines to Avenue, and talk over the template in class. I will give you feedback on your paper outlines within a few weeks, in preparation for your final paper.

Step 2 - Final paper: 20% of total grade. Due Friday, Dec. 7, by 10 pm.

This is a 2400 word narrative (roughly 8-pages of narrative, double-spaced, 12-pt font, 1-inch margins). Be sure to include a title page and bibliography on separate pages (and outside the word count). Again, you will need to use at least 8 sources, at least 5 of which must be outside of class readings.

I will post an example of the evaluation sheet I will use for your final paper online, and talk over the format in class, so that you have an idea of how to structure your paper.

After completing your final paper, please consider updating relevant Wikipedia articles on your paper topic(s), especially if you have chosen a more obscure topic with little or no information already on Wikipedia!

Final Research Presentation: 10% of total grade. Scheduled during last in-class meetings.

Final research presentations will take place during the last week of the term. You will need to prepare a short (5 min) PowerPoint (or similar) presentation. This will cover your 1) research questions, 2) analysis, and 3) preliminary interpretations as you have prepared them for your final paper. Basically, condense the text of your paper into 1.5 pages, and then craft roughly 4 slides to graphically illustrate your research. The goal of the presentations is to make you conversant in your own hard work!

As a reminder: part of your Class Participation grade is providing feedback on the presentations of two of your peers. This feedback will help them (and you!) polish the final paper.

Course Policies, Expectations, and General Guidelines

Grades:

Grades will be based on the McMaster University grading scale:

Letter¹	%	GPA¹	Verbal²	Definition²
A+	90-100	12		Strong evidence of original thinking; good organization; superior grasp of subject matter with sound critical evaluations; evidence of extensive knowledge base
A	85-89	11	Distinction
A-	80-84	10
B+	77-79	9		Evidence of grasp of subject matter, some evidence of critical capacity and analytic ability; reasonable understanding of relevant issues; evidence of familiarity with literature
B	73-76	8	Superior
B-	70-72	7
C+	67-69	6		Student who is profiting from his/her university experience; understanding of the subject matter, ability to develop solutions to simple problems in the material
C	63-66	5	Average
C-	60-62	4
D+	57-59	3		Some evidence of familiarity with subject matter and some evidence that critical analytic skills have been developed
D	53-56	2	Marginal
D-	50-52	1
F	0-49	0	Failure	Little evidence of even superficial understanding of subject matter, weakness in critical and analytic skills; with limited or irrelevant use of literature

[1] See section on General Academic Regulations in McMaster University Undergraduate Calendar 2013/2014;

[2] Definitions by University of Toronto Faculty of Arts and Science

The instructor and university reserve the right to modify elements of the course during the term. The university may change the dates and deadlines for any or all courses in extreme circumstances. If either type of modification becomes necessary, reasonable notice and communication with the students will be given with explanation and the opportunity to comment on changes. It is the responsibility of the student to check his/her McMaster email and course websites weekly during the term and to note any changes.

Academic Integrity Statement:

You are expected to exhibit honesty and use ethical behavior in all aspects of the learning process. Academic credentials you earn are rooted in principles of honesty and academic integrity.

Academic dishonesty is to knowingly act or fail to act in a way that results or could result in unearned academic credit or advantage. This behavior can result in serious consequences, e.g. the grade of zero on an assignment, loss of credit with a notation on the transcript (notation reads: "Grade of F assigned for academic dishonesty"), and/or suspension or expulsion from the university.

It is your responsibility to understand what constitutes academic dishonesty. For information on the various types of academic dishonesty please refer to the Academic Integrity Policy, located at www.mcmaster.ca/academicintegrity.

The following illustrates only three forms of academic dishonesty:

1. Plagiarism, e.g. the submission of work that is not one's own or for which credit has been obtained.
2. Improper collaboration in group work.
3. Copying or using unauthorized aids in tests and examinations.

In this course we will be using a software package designed to reveal plagiarism. Students will be required to submit their work electronically so that it can be checked for academic dishonesty.

Requests for Relief for Missed Academic Term Work:

The University recognizes that students periodically require relief from academic work for medical or personal situations. In the event of an absence for medical or other reasons, students should review and follow the Academic Regulation in the Undergraduate Calendar "Requests for Relief for Missed Academic Term Work."

The MSAF policy can be found in the Undergraduate Calendar under General Academic Regulations > Requests for Relief for Missed Academic Term Work:

http://academiccalendars.romcmaster.ca/content.php?catoid=11&navoid=1698#Requests for Relief for Missed Academic Term Work

For missed academic work worth up to 25% of the course weight, use the MSAF mechanism to report absences due to medical or personal situations that last up to three calendar days. You may submit requests for relief using the MSAF only once per term. As per the policy, an automated email will be sent to the course instructor, who will determine the appropriate relief. It is your responsibility to immediately follow up with each of your instructors (normally within two working days) regarding the nature of the accommodation. Failure to do so may negate the relief.

<https://www.mcmaster.ca/msaf/index.html>

If you are absent for more than 3 days, have missed academic work worth more than 25% of the final grade, or exceed one request per term you MUST visit your Associate Dean's Office. You may be required to provide supporting documentation. It is the prerogative of the instructor in each of your courses to determine the appropriate relief for missed term work.

Privacy Protection:

In accordance with regulations set out by the Freedom of Information and Privacy Protection Act, the University will not allow return of graded materials by placing them in boxes in departmental offices or classrooms so that students may retrieve their papers themselves; tests and assignments must be returned directly to the student. Similarly, grades for assignments for courses may only be posted using the last 5 digits of the student number as the identifying data. The following possibilities exist for return of graded materials:

1. Direct return of materials to students in class;
2. Return of materials to students during office hours;
3. Students attach a stamped, self-addressed envelope with assignments for return by mail;
4. Submit/grade/return papers electronically.

Arrangements for the return of assignments from the options above will be finalized during the first class.

E-mail Communication Policy:

Effective September 1, 2010, it is the policy of the Faculty of Social Sciences that all e-mail communication sent from students to instructors (including TAs), and from students to staff, must originate from the student's own McMaster University e-mail account. This policy protects confidentiality and confirms the identity of the student. It is the student's responsibility to ensure that communication is sent to the university from a McMaster account. If an instructor becomes aware that a communication has come from an alternate address, the instructor may not reply at his or her discretion.

Email Forwarding in MUGSI:

<http://www.mcmaster.ca/uts/support/email/emailforward.html>

*Forwarding will take effect 24-hours after students complete the process at the above link

Course Modification:

The instructor and university reserve the right to modify elements of the course during the term. The university may change the dates and deadlines for any or all courses in extreme circumstances. If either type of modification becomes necessary, reasonable notice and communication with the students will be given with explanation and the opportunity to comment on changes. It is the responsibility of the student to check his/her McMaster email and course websites weekly during the term and to note any changes.

Special Accommodations:

If you have any special accommodations, such as additional resource requirements and/or adjustments to your schedule due to Indigenous or spiritual observances, athletic events, or religious holidays, send me an email detailing your needs within the first two weeks of the course. It is not necessary to explain the context or background— just describe your necessary accommodations clearly.

Religious, Indigenous and Spiritual Observances (RISO):

The University recognizes that, on occasion, the timing of a student's religious, Indigenous, or spiritual observances and that of their academic obligations may conflict. In such cases, the University will provide reasonable academic accommodation for students that is consistent with the Ontario Human Rights Code.

Please review the RISO information for students in the Faculty of Social Sciences about how to request accommodation.

Student Accessibility Services:

Student Accessibility Services (SAS) supports students who have been diagnosed with a disability or disorder, such as a learning disability, ADHD, mental health diagnosis, chronic medical condition, sensory, neurological or mobility limitation. Students who require academic accommodation should contact SAS as early in the term as possible. For further information, consult McMaster University's Policy for Academic Accommodation of Students with Disabilities. Student Accessibility Services can be contacted by phone 905-525-9140 ext. 28652 or e-mail sas@mcmaster.ca. <http://sas.mcmaster.ca>

AODA:

If you require this information in an alternate/accessible format, please contact Marcia Furtado at 905-525-9140 extension 24423 or email furtam1@mcmaster.ca

Additional Student Resources:Office of Human Rights and Equity Services:

McMaster recently launched MACcessibility, part of the Office of Human Rights and Equity Services, to help advance the University's goal of building an inclusive community with a shared purpose. HRES works with campus and community partners to ensure that McMaster University is a place where all students, staff and faculty are treated equitably and respectfully in all areas of campus life.

<http://www.mcmaster.ca/hres/index.html>

Personal Counselling and Mental Health at the Student Wellness Center:

If you believe that you are in imminent danger or that harm to yourself or someone else exists, immediately call the police for assistance. For other situations of emotional distress, please contact a health or wellness specialist. The SWC offers individual counselling at the SWC, group programming at the SWC, community referrals, crisis referrals, and connections to community/campus resources.

<http://wellness.mcmaster.ca/counselling.html>

Writing Support Services:

If you need help researching, structuring, writing, or proofreading your paper, contact Writing Support Services early in the term and consult with them often. Trained upper-year and graduate Writing Assistants are available to provide help with particular assignments or specific questions related to academic writing.

<http://studentsuccess.mcmaster.ca/students/academic-skills/writing-support-services.html>

Research Help:

A Service Desk is located near the entrance of each library on campus. Students may drop by in person, call or email to get help finding library resources. Students may also get online research help by using the "Ask a Librarian" virtual reference service: <https://library.mcmaster.ca/justask>

Research Consultations:

Faculty, students and staff who require in-depth information on resources may request a one-on-one consultation with a librarian. Before making a request, ask for help at one of the Service Desks.

Course Schedule:

(Reminder: You are responsible for a 300 word response to one of the assigned readings-- NOT including the textbook-- the evening before each class meeting of the week.)

1. Sep. 4: Introduction to course, the topics, and each other

Lecture: Overview: Questions and interpretations, methodologies and materials

* Sept. 10: First reading response due by 10 pm for first week's readings*

(due every Sunday hereafter)

2. Sep. 11: Archaeologies of Space and Place

Lecture: Features and activity areas; space; place; stratigraphy; sedimentology; geoarchaeology

Activity: Sedimentology, micromorphology, and stratigraphy practicum

Discuss: B&P Chapter 2: Stratigraphy; B&P Chapter 3: Sediments; Shaw 1992; Sonnenburg et al. 2013

3. Sep. 18: Archaeologies of Trade, Exchange, and Political Economy

Lecture: Analyses of stone implements and materials; economies; trade; exchange

Activity: Lithic analysis practicum

Discuss: B&P Chapter 6: Introduction to Stone Artifact Analysis; Arakawa et al. 2011; Carter 2011; Sheets 2000

4. Sep. 25: Archaeologies of Ritual and Religion

Lecture: Analyses of fauna, mollusks, and insects; MNI, NISP, and meat weight; approaches to ritual and religion; religious traditions and practice

Activity: Zooarchaeology practicum

Discuss: B&P Chapter 9: Animal Bones; B&P Chapter 12: Mollusks and Other Shells; Cannon and Yang 2006; Sugiyama et al. 2013

5. Oct. 2: Archaeologies of Symbolism

Lecture: Analyses of iconography and epigraphy; symbolic practice; language; hieroglyphs, petroglyphs and rock art

Activity: Iconography practicum

Discuss: B&P Chapter 5: Rock-Art; Kitchell 2010; Ouzman 2001; Taube 1996

Oct. 6-14: Mid-term recess

6. Oct. 16: Archaeologies of Demography and Dwelling

Lecture: Analyses of architecture, settlement, and demography; households; ethnohistory and direct-historical approaches

Activity: Demography and settlement practicum

Discuss: B&P Chapter 14: Historical Sources; Hunt and Lipo 2012; Hyslop 1990 (excerpt); Joyce 2004

* Oct.23: Bring laptops to class!*

7. Oct. 23: Archeology and Ethnoecology

Lecture: Analyses of geography, ecology and environment; landscape; ecodynamics; Geographic Information Systems (GIS)

Activity: Landscape and GIS practicum

Discuss: David 2009; Lightfoot et al. 2013; Wollwage et al. 2012; Ur 2006

Oct 29-Nov 2: Maya archaeology meetings in Mérida, Yucatán

8. Oct. 30: Archaeology and Public Policy

Lecture: Heritage management; representation; stakeholderism; curation; museum exhibits; visualization

Discuss: B&P Chapter 1: Collaborating with Stakeholders; Carlson et al. 2010; Cochrane and Russell 2007; Hamilakis 1996

* Nov. 2: Final Paper Outline due by 10pm ****

9. Nov. 6: Archaeologies of Death

Lecture: Analyses of the human body; bioarchaeology; pathology and mortality; mortuary practices; relational approaches

Activity: Bioarchaeology practicum

Discuss: B&P Chapter 10: Human Remains; Cannon 2002; Larsen 2005; Prowse 2011

10. Nov. 13: Archaeologies of Foodways

Lecture: Analyses of plant residues; foodways; nutrition and health; cuisine; agriculture and horticulture; human-environmental interactions

Activity: Paleoethnobotany practicum

Discuss: B&P Chapter 11: Plant Remains; Minnis 1989; Morell-Hart et al. 2014; Sutton and Reinhard 1995

11. Nov. 20: Archaeology and Formation Processes

Lecture: Tracking formation processes in the archaeological record; decay and transformation; cultural and natural transformations; absolute and relative dating techniques; dendrochronology

Activity: Formation process practicum

Discuss: B&P Chapter 4: Absolute Dating; French and Whitelaw 1999; Metcalfe and Heath 1990; Schiffer 1972

12. Nov. 27: Archaeologies of Identity

Lecture: Analyses of ceramics, chemical residues, and usewear; axes of identity; social roles; communities

Activity: Ceramics practicum

Discuss: B&P Chapter 7: Ceramics; B&P Chapter 8: Residues and Usewear; Dongoske et al 1997; Roddick and Hastorf 2010

Workshop: Final paper and final exhibitions

13. Dec. 4: Final Presentations

* Dec. 7: Final Papers due by 10 pm*
